OREGON.

There is plenty good, fat beef in the Powder river valley, and in the Baker City market.

The Shoo Fly brought 120 tons of wheat down the river from Benton county on last Monday.

The South Salem sawmill took on too large a log last Saturday and broke all the head blocks off the carriage, compelling the mill to stop for repairs.

The printers of Salem without exception donated their mite, the price charged for setting 1,000 ems, to the Greeley monument fund on last Monday.

One hundred and fifteen thousand bushels of wheat have been stored at Independence since the first of last August It is being brought down the river quite rapidly since the boats commenced running.

The mercury indicated 27° below freezing point at Baker City on Monday morning of last week There was snow on the ground to the depth of nearly a foot, and sleighing was extensively indulged in.

Our Hillsboro correspondent says the law suit about a wagon in which most of the settlers in the Wapato Lake neighborhood were concerned, and which we mentioned some days ago, is yet likely to produce a sensation.

Much of the business of the old town of Oakland in Douglas county has been transferred to the new town by the same name, nearly a mile distant. Two business houses, a school house and grist mill remain in the former and give it some life. The two places together contain an estimated population of about 400.

The Statesman is informed by one of the officers of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Salem that Rev. Stephen Bowers had received about one hundred and forty members into his church since October. This number would make a church of no mean pretentions. The Sabbath School has an average attendance of about three hundred and twenty five.

The following officers of Hillsboro Lodge, I. O. G. T., No 17, were installed last Saturday evening: W. C. T., D. M. C. Gault; W. V., Mary Brown, W. S., Chas. T. Tozier; W. F. S., Geo. Butler, W. T., Mary Gault, W. M., G. N. Hall; W. C., R. C. Raymon, W. I. G., A. A. Carter, W. O. G., L. Whetstone; W. D. M., Nettie Witt; W. R. H. S., Sarah Southworth, W. L. H. S., Alice Brown.

As an incident of the late earthquaky times, the Weston, Umatilla, correspondent of the Rock Democrat says: "About three miles north west of Weston, on the Walla Walla road, there is a warm spring in a place where, previous to the 14th of December last, the ground was entirely dry. The spring is on the right hand bank of Dry Creek, and near a school house. The water is about right for a tepid bath, and the whole thing is a production of the late convulsive freak of nature."

A correspondent at Oakland sends us the following items: The opinoxite heretofore reported as prevalent among the horses in the northern part of Douglas county, is abating. Last week the weather was badly mixed, consisting of rain, freeze, sunshine, snow, hail, mud, etc. The health of the people is fair and doctors complain of, non plethoric pockets. The Odd Fellows and Masons have each a fine hall handsomely furnished, and are prospering. Abraham & Bros. have a large store of general merchandise. The post-office has been well arranged by Postmaster Sterling. Venable & Manly have a fine drug store. The saloons are said by strangers to be conducted on first class principles. (Our correspondent is a Good-Templar.)

A correspondent of the Democrat thus describes Weston in Umatilla county. It is situated on Pine creek, and about midway between Pendleton, Oregon, and Walla Walla City, W. T., and is on the main stage road from La Grand to Walla Walla. It is at present a place of considerable country trade, and is destined in a few years to become one of the most flourishing inland towns in Eastern Oregon. It is in the center of an excellent farming country, and contains four stores, one bakery, one blacksmith and wagon shop, one saloon, two hotels, one livery stable, one boot and shoe shop and one butcher shop. There are two steam saw mills within seven miles of town which are kept almost constantly running, but have failed to supply the increasing demand for lumber in this part of the country.

By a private letter from Albany, we learn the following in regard to the fire at that place on Monday night. It broke out in the kitchen of Mr. N Sprenger's residence, and was first discovered by the night watchman about midnight. The alarm was given immediately and the firemen were promptly on hand and succeeded in saving a part of the main building, but in such a badly charred condition as to render it almost valueless. The house, as above stated, was occupied by N. Sprenger, but belonged to his brother, Jacob Sprenger, proprietor of the St. Charles Hotel in Portland. The loss to the two is about $5,000, upon which there was no insurance, the policy on it having expired on the 28th of last month. The wind was quiet at the time of the fire, and no other buildings were injured.

A Lucklamute correspondent of the Dallas Republican says "I suppose you have heard of the organization of a Farmers' Club to which most of the substantial farmers of the Lucklamute and surrounding country belong. Their aim is to force the millers and speculators to pay higher prices for their wheat, and if they could induce the farmers of other counties to follow their example, I don't know but what they would succeed Their Constitution and By Laws provide, 'No member shall be allowed to dispose of his wheat for less than seventy five cents, and then only after giving the club the refusal. Should any of the members be forced to sell before it brings that price, they will take his wheat and advance him fifty cents per bushel, by paying interest on the money until the wheat is disposed of In case the price raises and the wheat is sold, he gets his share of the advance after deducting the interest"

We find the following New York dispatch of January 28th in the San Francisco papers

At White Plains, yesterday, the Greeley will case was again before the Surrogate, no compromise having been made between the proponent and the contestants. Neither of the Misses Greeley was present, and the only directly interested party in the court was Storrs, the executor of the will of 1871. James M. Choate, appearing as counsel for the Misses Greeley, said if two weeks' further postponement were granted he was satisfied that a compromise could be effected. Beside, he desired to give the case further examination; the case had now assumed a different phase, as all the legatees under the disputed will of 1871 had signed a renunciation, and no others had a right to press claims against the estate. The Surrogate decided that the executors of the will of 1871 could appoint Oliver Johnson, C. Runkle and Alvin Johnson were then called, and each testified to the belief that Mr. Greeley was not in his right mind during some weeks prior to his death The case was then adjourned to February 3d.

Two interesting marriages are reported in literary circles. Robert Dale Owen, in his old age to an artist maiden who has a beautiful summer home on Lake George, and Rose Terry, of Connecticut, to a young bank officer in Winsted, which divides with Hartford the honor of her residence The average of the ages of the four gives an excess to the male members of the quartet.

The Chinese Emperor contemplates a journey through the interior Empire.

THE TERRITORIES

Waitsburg, W T., has a new set of instruments, and a band has been organized. The instruments cost $500

A fine Berkshire pig named George Francis Train arrived at Helena, Montana, by stage, a few days ago.

In Olympia there is one newspaper to every three hundred people; of course, their publishers are all getting rich.

Editors on the Sound are complaining about the irregularity of newspaper mails from the East. We "know how it is ourself."

Oats are selling in Deer Lodge City at 1 cent per pound, and barley at 1½@1¾ cents. And yet some of the people of that burg oppose the N. and S. road.

The Methodists are just completing a fine church edifice, and the United Presbyterians are getting ready to build also, at Walisburg, Walla Walla county.

The Arizona Legislature on the 16th ult., passed an act granting a divorce to Governor Safford from his wife, who is now applying in the courts of California for a divorce from the Governor.

Snow at Missoula and Bitter Root valleys was two feet deep on the 11th, ult. Farmers have been feeding for three weeks, but all are supplied with hay, and there is no danger of any loss of stock.

Mr. Gilman Sawtelle, of Henry's Lake, Madison county, W. T, annually kills and markets over 200 deer, elk, antelope and mountain sheep, and his yearly catch of trout is estimated in round numbers at 40,000.

The Helena Herald of the 22d ult says: The annual supply of annuity goods for the confederate tribes of the Flathead nation of Indians, passed through Missoula last week, en route for the Agency, where they will be distributed among the red skins.

Cornelius Francis, better known on the Sound as "Frenchy," two weeks since, while going from San Juan to Smith Island, in his own little boat, he was capsized. He lost his boat and everything in it, and narrowly escaped drowning himself. He was picked up by an Indian in his canoe.

"Hope Encampment No. 19, C. R. C., was instituted at Coupeville, W. T., on the evening of January 24th by M. D. Morrick, D. G. C. The following is the list of officers: James Thomas, C; A. Alexander, J. C.; C. C. Morgan, R. S.; J. Alexander, F. S., O. H. Morgan, T.; W. Crockett, C. H.; M. B. Kinney, I. G.; T. F. Kinney, O. G."

During the heavy gale that prevailed the entire length of the Sound, on Tuesday of last week, the steamer Politkofsky, and the Tidal Wave, which was in tow of the former, drifted ashore in Scow Bay, opposite Port Townsend. It is a sandy beach where they struck, and somewhat sheltered so that it was thought they would get off without being greatly damaged.

The following officers were elected by Tacoma Lodge I. O. G. T., last Friday evening for the ensuing quarter: S. S. Dobbin, W. C. T.; Mrs. Lizzie Foster, W. V. T.; T. M. Reed, Jr., W. Sec'y.; J. H. Munson, W. F. S.; Mrs. E. B. Henry, W. T.; D. C. Britt, W. M.; J. R. Thompson, W. Chaplain; George Smith, W. I. G.; R. H. Hewitt, W. O. G; Wm. Roberts, Organist.

The Deer Lodge Montana Independent says: Thos. Purrell & Bro., of Butte, recently struck a twenty-two feet lode of copper and gold ore, near the mouth of Park Canyon; Wm. Regan an eighteen feet lode of the same kind of ore, in the same district, and Dennis Leary has found the extension of the Parrott lode (Gilchrist's). The quartz prospects of Butte are constantly improving."

The Pacific Tribune says: Col. Wheat and Capt. Tuttle, started last Monday to San Juan and the other islands lately in dispute, for the purpose of taking a census of the population, in the interest of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company. A few months ago these islands contained not more than three or four hundred inhabitants. Now they are said to number two thousand.

Last Monday the foundation was commenced at Kalama for a new hotel, which will be built by Messrs. Patterson & Nixon, and is to be 50x75 feet and three stories high. It will be opened as a first class house. On the same block, Mr. Wm. Korn is soon intending to erect a substantial two story building 35x45 feet, to be occupied as a general merchandising establishment. Other considerable improvements in the place are contemplated to be made soon.

The Supreme Court of Washington Territory met at Olympia last Saturday. Opinions were delivered by the Court in the cases of Walla Walla county vs the Treasurer and his bondsmen, Skollinger vs Smith, and Griffith vs Nickels. In all these cases the judgment of the Court below was affirmed. In the last mentioned case Judge Donnilson, proctor of Nickels, announced his intention to appeal the same to the United States Supreme Court. After signing the docket the Court adjourned sine die.

The Denver Tribune of January 11th, says the South Park line of Stages have been taken off and oxen are used to draw the mails. The horses of the Southern stage line have been withdrawn altogether. The mails have accumulated in huge piles. The merchants at Pueblo and Santa Fe, have petitioned Major Dawley, for the delivery of the mails, under escort of a military guard, as large sums of money are understood to be in transmission. Here in the city there is a marked improvement in the condition of the equines. The streets are resuming their wonted appearance. The Utes are pasturing some two thousand ponies near Hugo Station Major Thompson says not a case of epizootic has appeared among them.

The Helena, Montana, Herald says: "Helena was visited Saturday and Sunday nights, January 18th and 19th, with an unprecedented wind storm, which at times could almost be called a tornado. About 4 o'clock on the morning of the 20th a portion of the roof (over the fire proof) of the Masonic Temple blew off, and a large detachment striking the roof of the Occidental Saloon, came through that building with a terrific crash, smashing a chandelier and breaking one of the marble slabs to a billiard table. Charley Holter, who was sleeping in the building, had a very narrow escape, the billiard table probably saving him from an instant death. He escaped, however, without any injuries, although it was some time before he could be extricated from the debris Two of the chimneys on the Temple were also knocked over, and one of them striking the rear end of a Chinese wash house, completely demolished that part of the building."

The Idaho Statesman of the 23d ult., says: "Friday night last, the terrible news was received here that Edgar Harr had been killed in the Golden Chariot mine, about five o'clock the previous morning Deceased was working on the night shift, and it being time for the morning shift to commence work, he, with two others, was ascending in the bucket, and when within about 200 feet of the surface, or between the second and third levels, a steel triangle, used as a signal bell over the shaft of the mine, broke loose, and as afterwards appeared, struck him on the head, knocking him out of the bucket, when he fell a distance of 600 feet. There can be no doubt but that deceased was killed instantly by the triangle, as, when the body was brought to the surface it was found that he had been struck near the back of the head tearing away a portion, and literally emptying the skull of all contents. Deceased was 19 years of age, and leaves a mother and two sisters in this city, and one sister in Japan, who went thither a few months since with the family of Rev. G. D. B. Miller."

DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN

EASTERN DATES TO FEBRUARY 4.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, Feb 3—In the Senate, Bayard, from the Committee on Private Land Claims, reported a resolution which was adopted, directing the Secretary of State to make inquiry through our Minister in Mexico, concerning American records relating to lands in Arizona and New Mexico, and the best method and probable means of procuring transcripts of the same

Cragin, Morrill of Maine and Bayard were appointed as a committee of conference on the bill to build six new sloops of-war

The vote on the bill of Hawley, of Illinois, regulating railroads, in the House, was 105 ayes to 95 noes; 78 votes being necessary to pass the bill, it was defeated.

Sherman's specie bill is under debate. There is a growing opinion in favor of specie resumption, incident to the discussion of Senator Sherman's bill.

In the House, Porter introduced a bill to refund the special income tax of five per cent. paid by the officers and soldiers of the United States Army and Navy.

Rogers introduced a bill to abolish the tax on liquors distilled from fruit.

Friday next week, is assigned for the consideration of the bill to provide for the distribution of the Geneva award. The previous question is to be called on that day

On motion, Mr. Shanks, the Secretary of the House, was requested to obtain all the information in the possession of the Department relating to the Modoc war.

The call of States being concluded, a resolution was offered declaring it to be the opinion of the House that it is not wise or expedient for the public interests that any part of Goat Island be ceded for Railroad purposes.

Sargent of California, moved to lay the resolution on the table

This was negatived by a vote of 77 to 102. While the question on the adoption of the resolution was pending Sargent rose to a question of order which was that lobbyists were on the floor abusing the privileges of the House.

The Speaker said, the point of order is well taken if the gentleman would name the persons he referred to Sargent named McClure, of California.

Baker remarked that the gentleman was an ex-member of Congress and had a right to the floor.

Sargent said he would find that right under a pledge that he would not abuse the privilege of the floor in lobbying for or against any measure of legislation

The Speaker said he could not assume that an ex-member of Congress was not acting legitimately.

Dawes, of Massachusetts, suggested that the question should be examined before an ex-member of Congress was condemned and deprived of a right extended to him under rule

Sargent said, That is simply my proposition.

The Speaker referred to the rule and to the proper modification of it, and said the decision of the House at the last session was that the rule only applied to members interested in private claims

Sargent then made a point of order, that McRuer had not registered his name in accordance with the rules.

The Speaker stated the objection was not a point of order, and remarked that members were embarrassed by persons coming on the floor. The resolution was adopted.

A Direct Statement.

The Secretary of the Treasury has sent a letter to the Senate stating that the Union Pacific and Central Pacific Railroad Companies have not complied with the law for the payment of interest

An Ugly Case.

CHICAGO, Feb. 4—A Washington special says Ingalls, the new Kansas Senator, is alleged to be as corrupt as any Kansas politician; that it appears from testimony before the House Judiciary Committee, in the case of Judge Delahy, of Kansas, that Ingalls bribed, or attempted to bribe, Delahy. Ingalls himself testified to offering the sum of Delahy $1,500, in open court, to make a decree in bankruptcy, in favor of a client; which was done. Ingalls gave a draft on his client in New York for one thousand dollars. The draft was returned protested; Ingalls was threatened with a suit to recover the amount, but declined. He posted the collection by alleging that the draft was given for illegal purposes.

Goat Island.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—It is understood that three of the Committee oppose the Goat Island bill, and three favor it with the amendments The subject is postponed until Monday next, when Osborne will return from Florida, whom they expect to capture.

A Presidential Tour.

President Grant yesterday assured a delegation from Georgia that before the close of the session, he should accompany members of the Cabinet and make an extended tour, visiting Augusta, Richmond, Raleigh, Columbia, Charleston and other places From New Orleans he would go to Memphis, but was undecided whether he would return to Knoxville or Nashville and Louisville. He declined to state anything positive concerning the appointment of a Southerner to the Cabinet.

EASTERN STATES.

A Terrible Casualty.

PITTSBURG, Feb 3—Four boilers of the American Iron Works of Jones & Laughlin's exploded this morning, completely demolishing three sections of the building. About three thousand hands were employed in the mill at the time of the accident. Six dead bodies had been recovered up to noon. The entire number of killed is unknown. Thirty were injured, few seriously. Seven bodies have been extricated from the ruins, all of them more or less mutilated and blackened.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, FEB 4 1874

Lobbyists on the Floor

That Great Land grab has hard Dr Dick, in metaphysics by of a future state, expresses the opinion that all the natural longings of the human heart must in the ultimate development of human destiny be satisfied The ultimate desire for immortality in that sense to be a prophecy If the same philosophy were applicable to creatures that have no souls, the railway corporations would ere anuly possess Great Island some time—and everything else in California, for that matter It has looked with longing eyes upon that precious bit of soil until it has come to regard its possession as a right withheld by the Government Standing in the center of the most magnificent harbor on the Pacific Coast, and sheer abreast of that city which is the emporium of a vast and increasing commerce, the acquisition of this island would give the company a tighter grip on San Francisco, and of the entire State of California, than it now holds This of itself is reason enough why the island should not be ceded by the Government, to say nothing of the importance of the point in a military view, as a defense to the city and harbor It is a reason also why the Company has spared no effort to secure the island.

The Credit Mobilier investigations and the report of Secretary Boutwell of the delinquency of the company on its existing obligations to the Government, opened the eyes of Congressmen to the nature of the facts they have to deal with in legislating in regard to these great corporations, and prepared the way for the true representatives of the sentiment of California to gain a hearing before Congress and Congressional Committees The result is, the House which under a misapprehension of the facts in the case passed the bill ceding the island to the Railway Company, now passes a resolution declaring such cession inexpedient and not calculated to promote the best interests of the Government The filibustering of Mr Sargent of California, at the time the resolution came up, as appears by the dispatches this morning publishod, indicates the importance which the company attaches to such action by the House When that body has done all it could legally do while the bill is in the hands of the Senate, toward a rescission of the vote adopting the measure, it is scarcely likely the Senate will proceed to pass it

Mr. Sargent's point of order that "lobbyists were on the floor" of the House endeavoring to secure the passage of the resolution of recession, was one of the most remarkable exhibitions of audacity ever witnessed in Congress. If the case had been one in which this point might have been well taken, it would have seemed the height of impudence for a friend of the corporation, to raise the question, when it is notorious that for the last ten years the lobbyists have been on the floor, and under the floor, and in the corridors and the garret, and in every other imaginable place, proper and improper, about the national capitol, waylaying, hoodwinking, bulldying and "influencing" members of Congress in the interest of this company.

We do not hear much of late of Oregon's part in the Centennial Celebration. Our Commissioner, Hon. A J Dufur has made a visit to Philadelphia and acquainted himself with the modus operandi, of the work, and doubtless possesses information which it would be important and pleasant for the citizens of Oregon to have. This is a matter in which every State—and especially Oregon—ought to feel that it can not afford to hold back and fail to do its part Our citizens are always ready to act to the extent of their ability upon public measures affecting their State dignity, and would no doubt be unwilling to see Oregon fail of contributing her full proportion toward the success of the celebration. But of the details of the plan of operations they are measurably uninformed We suggest the propriety of the citizens calling out our able and worthy Commissioner and having him explain the whole thing—the objects, plans and bearings of the enterprise—in a public address. We have little doubt he would do so if invited, and we regard the matter as one that we ought not to neglect. If Christmas is a big thing because it comes but once a year, how is it with the Centennial Fourth of July which comes only once in a hundred years?

Hong Kong dates to December 12th say that the Corean question is assuming a very serious aspect. The Japan Gazette says that war is imminent. The Japan Mail denies in toto that the foreign clergy has been invited by the Japanese Government to take part in the discussion of the question of religious toleration. The Japanese are considering the propriety of importing camels to replace the cattle swept away by the plague

All actors and wrestlers in Japan have been notified that they can pursue their professions three years longer, after which they must follow some more useful and honorable employment. The male Japanese have been informed that they will no longer be required to shave their heads, but the top knot must be retained Native merchants have petitioned the Japanese Government for permission to construct railroads and telegraph lines The petitions were granted The work is to done under the supervision of the Public Works Department Reforms in the judicial and police departments are being pushed forward rapidly

The Bohemian quack expresses the opinion that a man may call another a traitor to the party he professes to love, a plotter for the overthrow of the principles to which he professes devotion, a man who makes a speculation of his official position, and a very estimable gentleman, without any self contradiction This is doubtless according to the Bohemian's ideal of "very estimable gentleman," but we confess it seems to us quite impossible to reconcile these characteristics with any true notions of the estimable gentleman A man's theoretical standard of morals will generally be found on about the same level with his individual conduct.

In the Italian Chamber of Deputies on Monday, January 19th, Signor Pessavent, asked that measures be taken to prevent the cruel frauds practiced upon emigrants by American emigration companies Minister Visconti replied that the Government had had its attention called to the deplorable occurrences which the honorable deputy sought to prevent, and had measures under contemplation which it is hoped would put a stop to them.

They have an expeditious mode of disposing of recalcitrant preachers in certain parts of the world. Herr Leinweber, of Uder, a German pastor, has been condemned by a criminal court to six months imprisonment for preaching political sermons from the pulpit

The appearance of "Martin Chuzzlewit" was the signal for an outburst of indignant patriotism in America Injudicious critics, overlooking the modicum of truth which rendered the satire effective, denounced Dickens' portrait of the average American as a miserable caricature Martin Chuzzlewit, be it remembered fell an easy victim to the flashy proposition of an American Land His sufferings in the dreary swamps of Pawnbee have had their thousand repetitions since the day when the disgusted Briton spouted his memorable apostrophe to the American flag How many Magdalena Bay schemes are necessary to give a color of truth to the strict data of the great novelist? A greed for gain which scorns the slow and sure process of legitimate business, is an evil which cannot but result in final demoralization of trade and financial ruin And yet it is an evil which fastens on its own weakness So general has this various tendency become that it threatens soon to assume the shape of a national characteristic We are not inclined to admit this, perhaps A corner in Wall street is followed by the crash of huge monetary schemes toppling to their ruin For a moment men pause in their wild and hazardous scheming, the tides of commerce and speculation sweep on, and not until another mad venture brings its inevitable disaster do we stop to think that after all there may be "something rotten in Denmark"

These thoughts have been suggested by reading in a Louisville paper an account of the formation of a company whose purpose it is to develope an El Dorado located in one of the Western Territories. While traveling in one of the Territories in 1868, one Mr Robeson, a gentleman of "most excellent fancy" chanced to come upon a region which "far outshines the wealth of Ormus or of Ind" In the heart of a dense forest thirty veins of gold and silver ore greeted his rapt vision, while all around rich virgin placers "protruded from the soil"

Mr R possessed himself of quartz sufficient to authenticate his narrative, hied himself to Washington with patriotic haste and laid before the astonished optics of Mr Seward a proposition for the immediate liquidation of the national debt That wise statesman judiciously remarked that the matter was out of his province, but referred the enthusiastic Robeson to the Land Office The Surveyor General has not yet reached the proposition Tired of the delay, Mr R now proposes to form a company of one hundred persons, each of whom is to pay him $50 in cash now, $200 when the mining party is taken to the rocks (!) in the spring, and when his story is proven true, to give a note at twelve months with six per cent interest for $25,000. Other terms equally pleasant and profitable combine to make each credulous Louisvillian a Croesus When asked "what security can you give for the correctness of these statements?" Mr. Robeson courageously remarked, "If my face is not sufficient security, you had better have nothing to do with the enterprise." It is refreshing to know that in several instances Mr. R 's confidence in the imposing regularity of his features has not been misplaced.

Peter Donahue, Esq., of San Francisco, has purchased of the the Central Pacific Company the North Pacific railroad—the Russian river line—for $1,000,000. The contract was consummated at Santa Rosa on the 25th of January. The Petaluma Argus says in regard to the transaction:

Mr. Donahue has had a desire to own the property, and on repeated occasions has regretted parting with the same at the time he did. He sold the road for $750,000, since which time the Cloverdale extension has been built The change gives good satisfaction everywhere.

The Union says it is understood that Stanford & Co. had never paid Donahue the original purchase money, and that the latter simply took the road back, paying for the work done while the road was in the hands of Stanford.

A queer case is on trial in one of the courts of the District of Columbia. Clark Mills, the sculptor, is defendant, and his children by his first wife the plaintiffs, the origin of the case being the making of the equestrian statue of General Jackson, now in Lafayette square, Washington City. The law of Congress authorizing the statue contained a clause to the effect that when paid for, he (Mills) should set aside and apply out of the whole fund the sum of $10,000 for the benefit of his wife and children. His wife has since died and he has married again Now come the children by his first wife with complaint that they have not received the benefit of the Jackson statue payment as provided for by Congressional enactment.

But fifteen per cent of the lands on the island of Cuba, says the Call, are under cultivation, yet she exports annually to the amount of $90,000,000 There is a yearly revenue of $57,000 000, only $10,000,000 of which goes to the parent Government, the balance being expended on the island Government officials A third of the island is covered with the rarest timber, which yields woods of many valuable kinds It is also rich in gold, copper, lead and iron In view of these facts, it is no wonder Spain clings to the island with such stubborn tenacity. For the same reasons, if it could be obtained by honorable purchase, it would be a splendid acquisition to whatever nation might possess it

The recent attempt to assassinate Senor Zorrilla, President of the Spanish Council was almost a success On the night of December 25th as the Minister's carriage was passing the Puerto del Sol—a public square in Madrid—a crowd of two hundred Spanish Republicans fired, killing the footman and mortally wounding the driver At the same time the rebels attacked a theater in which was one of the other Ministers Here the troops fired and killed half a dozen Republicans Disturbances of this character are frequent throughout Spain nowadays

The lucid remarks of the Commissioner of Patents are provoking in their lucidity. He decides that a "hat made of a piece of shaped fabric covered with a film of pulp and then pressed so that the materials are intimately united, differs essentially from one in which a piece of woven fabric has been plated as a lining within a pulp hat previously formed" 'And if so, why not?

Recent dispatches from Bombay say that on January 9th, a terrible earthquake occurred at Soonghur, a town of India, in a detached district of the Baroda Dominions, 114 miles north of Bombay Fifteen hundred persons perished The exact limits of the shock have not been defined but throughout the district the greatest consternation prevailed

Until quite recently there have been in Japan two peculiar departments, one of religion and the other of education The former has been abolished and its duties handed over to the other

OUR SALEM LETTER

[FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT.]

SALEM, Feb. 1, 1874

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Pen, ink and paper, with a competent hand to manipulate them, would fail in making anything like a faithful record of the weather we have been having recently If such a thing may be imagined, we might suppose our sphere in whirling through space had encountered a rough place in its orbit, and, after the style of jolting vehicles, thrown the contents of mercurial tubes into a condition of perpetual up and-downishness. In addition to a few blank, disagreeable days, we have had some that were bright and beautiful—forerunners of the fair spring and summer before us One day there was a light shimmer of snow in the air It left no trace in the valleys but on each side of us the hills and mountain ranges are white

NOT DEAD, BUT DORMANT

Strolling carelessly about I notice the planting of croquet in many dooryards has already begun The pent up subjects of drawing room culture are wilting from confinement, and though the hymeneal yield during the winter has not been large, we have, in this early transplanting into sunshine, an assurance that the germ is not dead Good soil with anything like a fair cultivation of croquet, will brighten up the market and our agricultural implement firm can secure a brisk trade in the manufacture of wagons—small wagons, to be propelled by horses.

A COAL PICTURE FOR LECTURERS

Lectures are our hobby at present We have had three the past week at Reed's Opera House. The course is gotten up on the popular, two bit plan, or so for a dollar The scheme is meritorious and the lectures good But it makes me feel bad whenever I see such entertainments advertised to be given in Salem In connection with the announcement of things of that kind, I have a mental photograph of the audience chamber of the Opera House, which comes up without asking, and will not down until I dismiss the thought It is the picture of a deserted stage with a green curtain shutting off the view, in front of which is a small table surmounted by a kerosene lamp, and standing beside it the figure of some poor devil who vainly endeavors to "overreach the grave and from the wreck of names to rescue his" In front of him a cavernous hall, which echoes harshly to his words, giving them a doleful, plaintive effect Amid the array of empty seats near to the stage in the central tier, a small deluded knot of hearers sits, the dim gas gets thrilling a ghastlike halo over the scene No noise but the voice of the speaker, and when that dies away the worshippers silently withdraw And as I see them file out to their homes I am prepared for slow music, an organ dirge for the dead—dead hopes, dead faces. Here Miss Mehlig wasted her sweetness on a deserted hall, here the great Vivian witnessed his utter littleness in the estimation of our people, and here hosts of lesser lights have been unceremoniously and unmercifully snuffed out I had hoped for better things during this course of lectures, they being kind of home institutions and I attended once during the week, only to have the susceptive tablet of my imagination receive a deeper and more lasting impression of the picture above drawn. It's of no use Our people refuse to be comforted or attracted by any body short of an O'Gorman or some other peripatetic scandal.

CAPITOL COMMISSIONERS, ETC

There is great rejoicing here because of the appointment by the Governor of commissioners for the erection of a State Capitol building The fine addition this structure will make to our already goodly array of imposing edifices and the necessary train of prosperity which must follow its erection, puts our business world in the best of humor Scramblers for the handling of the public money appropriated for this use are not all pleased at the selections made by the Governor This is overlooked from the fact that the project moves.

We have had the appointment of a State School Superintendent also, and it is a lamentable fact that the circle of His Excellency's acquaintances and friends is so limited as regards fitness for positions requiring scholastic worth, that the lucky few are hardly able to resign places of honor and trust fast enough to accommodate themselves to the law which governs gubernatorial appointments. How embarrassing this must be to the recipients of his favors, and how humiliating to those in expectancy!

THE SCALPERS COME HOME WITH SCALPS

Our small but heroic detachment of avengers has returned from the Modoc war, not like Spartans, maimed or ghastly upon their shields, but in the full and vigorous glow of health. They have been and seen and are satisfied As trophies of their daring, they exhibit two scalps—intact Being out of season, no laurel wreaths were woven to deck their brows, and as it is yet too cold to dress maidens in white, and too early for flowers, an ovation was impossible at the hands of our overjoyed populace, but the spot where the wreck of their glory went down shall be marked by the bubbles of story. They have only fallen back to protect us from raiding savages and under their sheltering wgis our city is serene, free from the marshalling of defenders, tranquil in the knowledge that beneath the garb of two peaceful citizens we have Nelson's chieftains powerful to save

THE RELIGIOUS INTEREST STILL SUSTAINED

A revival is still in progress at the Methodist Episcopal Church here, and tri weekly meetings were held last week at the Congregational Church.

GOSSIP

Salem is socially quiet, not an on dit among cupid's retainers or even a prospect of a cheerful funeral. What the Dames Grundy are doing is impossible to tell It is certain tea parties are much in vogue, but they have a Star Chamber secrecy about them which to those outside the mystic circle is impenetrable Some wanton wretch who has undoubtedly felt the lightning judgment of these inquisitions, has dubbed them the Society of Cannibals The name is suggestive to say the least, and the feast which attracts them here is large if not palatable.

Balls and parties are on the decline and the only thing we have before us now in that line is a hop to be given by the Fire Department at the Opera House on the 22d inst

ADIEU

And now let me bid good bye to Salem and your readers. I cannot say with our Joaquin

"I feel content, I kiss your eyes,
I kiss your hair in my delight,"

for I don't think he had the fear of belladonna or bear's oil in his mind, but I sincerely hope in all I have said now and heretofore, naught will be considered as "set down in malice" Having had a favorable response from my oracle, I go to prepare hospitable graves for the Modocs, and in the frame of mind which portrayed the value of a friend to the Bard of Ayr Substituting for such friend Salem and its good people, permit me to say that

"I'll remember thee Glencairn
And all that thou hast done for me"

At last the question of Mr Greeley's will has been terminated by the withdrawal of the Misses Greeley from the contest This sets aside the will executed during his last sickness, and substitutes that of January 1872. The Misses Greeley, who appear to be endowed with excellent judgment and a delicate sense of propriety, have thus, it is fair to presume, been forced to give the sum of ten thousand dollars, which was understood to be the amount really affected by the controversy, to avoid the scandal of such a contest They have acted handsomely

A Washington dispatch of the 28th, says the House Judiciary Committee decided today to report a bill placing the salary of the President at $50,000, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, $15,000, Vice President, Speaker of the House and Associate Justices, $10,000 and members of Congress, $8,000

It is reported that Hon. F W Palmer, member of Congress from Iowa, has purchased a half interest in the Inter Ocean, paying therefor $100,000, and that after the expiration of his term in Congress on the 4th of March he will assume editorial management of the paper

P T Barnum, in a speech in New York the other night, said he was used to being burned out, and that he was "enabled to invest another half million dollars without disturbing his bank account or injuring the prospects of his children inheriting a fortune they never earned."

The new Mexican dollar has been officially adopted at Canton

The San Francisco Call of January 30th says A Washington dispatch says there is a rumor at the Capital that a pool is now being formed in which the Bank of California and the Central Pacific Railway Company are principals, for the purchase of the Union Pacific Railway in case the January interest on bonds of the latter corporation goes to protest, which event is regarded as highly probable in the present embarrassments of the company Simultaneously comes the announcement of the sale of the North Pacific road, and the rumor that they are negotiating with Tom Scott for the sale of the San Jose Branch of the Southern Pacific, and their willingness to dispose of the California Pacific from Vallejo to Sacramento That the Central Pacific as well as the Union Pacific, is hard up, has for a long time been common report It is doubtful whether it is able to hold all its California roads, and their sale therefore, becomes a matter of necessity

In Trinity College, England, stands a marble statue of Dr Whewell The art critic of the London Standard has seen it, With a noticeable freedom from the transcendental cant which characterizes the average art critic he remarks thusly "The sage man is seated, with one leg crossing the other, in the attire of happy ease, such as only a consummate master can command" How refreshing to know that the Doctor in sedentary attitude is calm! And then what a sweet assurance in the sage statement that the Doctor's legs have an expression of happy ease! Verily Americans must be "consummate masters," and profiting by the serene composure of the sage Doctor's statue, let American artists study our peculiar American attitude.

What a goodly thing it is for brethren to dwell in unity! The Brooklyn Eagle thus discourses of the reputed proprietor and editor of the Independent

"It is even said that the slanders on the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, which have been recently circulated through this city were concocted by a woman who has been described as unwomanly on principle, but we have reason to believe that the falsest and basest of them was originated by a man who is unmanly on principle, and the man is Henry C Bowen We will not believe that Mr Beecher is a libertine, we prefer to believe that Henry C Bowen is a scoundrel."

Hence originated the suit against the Eagle for libel.

The expenditures of the Government for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1874, it is estimated, will be about $250,000,000 This amount includes the payment of the interest on the public debt.

Secretary James of Nebraska, lately called on to act temporarily as Governor, avails himself of the brief opportunity to pardon twenty-seven convicts.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 19

Lobbyists on the Floor

The Cincinnati Enquirer has had Dr Dick Taylor photograph a picture into expression the picture that all the natural longing of the human heart puts in the ultimate development of human society It is intended to be a prophecy If the same photography were applied to creatures that live to rule the railway corporations would certainly possess, at Inland some three- and everything else in California for that matter In has looked with longing eyes upon that prize but of sort until it has come to regard its possession a right withheld by the Government Standing in the center of the most magnificent harbor on the Pacific Coast and all over above of that city which is the emporium of a vast and increasing commerce the acquisition of this island would give the company a tighter grip on San Francisco, and of the entire State of California, than it now holds This of itself is reason enough why the island should not be ceded by the Government, to say nothing of the importance of the point in a military view as a defense to the city and harbor It is a reason also why the Company has spared no effort to secure the island

The Credit Mobilier investigations and the report of Secretary Boutwell of the delinquency of the company on its existing obligations to the Government, opened the eyes of Congressmen to the nature of the facts they have to deal with in legislating in regard to these great corporations, and prepared the way for the true representatives of the sentiment of California to gain a hearing before Congress and Congressional Committees The result is the House which under a misapprehension of the facts in the case passed the bill ceding the island to the Railway Company now passes a resolution declaring such cession unexpedient and not calculated to promote the best interests of the Government The filibustering of Mr Sargent of California at the time the resolution came up, as appears by the dispatches this morning published, indicates the importance which the company attaches to such action by the House When that body has done all it could legally do while the bill is in the hands of the Senate, toward a rescission of the vote adopting the measure, it is scarcely likely the Senate will proceed to pass it

Mr Sargent's point of order that "lobbyists were on the floor" of the House endeavoring to secure the passage of the resolution of recession, was one of the most remarkable exhibitions of audacity ever witnessed in Congress If the case had been one in which this point might have been well taken, it would have seemed the height of impudence for a friend of the corporation, to raise the question, when it is notorious that for the last ten years the lobbyists have been on the floor, and under the floor, and in the corridors and the garret, and in every other imaginable place, proper and improper, about the national capitol waylaying, hoodwinking bullying and "influencing" members of Congress in the interest of this company.

We do not hear much of late of Oregon's part in the Centennial Celebration. Our Commissioner, Hon A J Dufur has made a visit to Philadelphia and acquainted himself with the modus operandi of the work, and doubtless possesses information which it would be important and pleasant for the citizens of Oregon to have This is a matter in which every State—and especially Oregon—ought to feel that it can not afford to hold back and fail to do its part Our citizens are always ready to act to the extent of their ability upon public measures affecting their State dignity, and would no doubt be unwilling to see Oregon fail of contributing her full proportion toward the success of the celebration But of the details of the plan of operations they are measurably uninformed We suggest the propriety of the citizens calling out our able and worthy Commissioner and having him explain the whole thing—the objects, plans and bearings of the enterprise—in a public address We have little doubt he would do so if invited, and we regard the matter as one that we ought not to neglect If Christmas is a big thing because it comes but once a year, how is it with the Centennial Fourth of July which comes only once in a hundred years?

Hong Kong dates to December 12th say that the Corean question is assuming a very serious aspect The Japan Gazette says that war is imminent The Japan Mail denies in toto that the foreign clergy has been invited by the Japanese Government to take part in the discussion of the question of religious toleration The Japanese are considering the propriety of importing camels to replace the cattle swept away by the plague

All actors and wrestlers in Japan have been notified that they can pursue their professions three years longer, after which they must follow some more useful and honorable employment The male Japanese have been informed that they will no longer be required to shave their heads, but the top knot must be retained Native merchants have petitioned the Japanese Government for permission to construct railroads and telegraph lines The petitions were granted The work is to be done under the supervision of the Public Works Department Reforms in the judicial and police departments are being pushed forward rapidly

The Bohemian quack expresses the opinion that a man may call another a traitor to the party he professes to love, a plotter for the overthrow of the principles to which he professes devotion a man who makes a speculation of his official position, and a very estimable gentleman without any self contradiction This is doubtless according to the Bohemian's ideal a "very estimable gentleman," but we confess it seems to us quite impossible to reconcile these characteristics with any true notions of the estimable gentleman A man's theoretical standard of morals will generally be found on about the same level with his individual conduct

In the Italian Chamber of Deputies on Monday, January 19th, Signor Pessavini asked that measures be taken to prevent the cruel frauds practiced upon emigrants by American emigration companies Minister Visconti replied that the Government had had its attention called to the deplorable occurrences which the honorable deputy sought to prevent, and had measures under contemplation which it is hoped would put a stop to them

They have an expeditious mode of disposing of recalcitrant preachers in certain parts of the world Herr Leinweber, of Uder, a German pastor, has been condemned by a criminal court to six months imprisonment for preaching political sermons from the pulpit

The appearance of "Martin Chuzzlewit" was the signal for an outburst of indignant patriotism in America Injudicious critics overlooking the modicum of truth which rendered the satire effective, denounced Dickens portrait of the average American as a miserable caricature Martin Chuzzlewit however remembers I fell in very readily into the flashy prospectus of "An American Life" His sanguine temperament swamped all Punch's warnings in the watery swamps of Eden Yet I think their then vivid reputations since the day when the disguised British spunk I had acquired by astrophe to the American flag How many Mag, Diana Mary schemes are necessary to give a color of truth to the financial career of the great novelist? A greed for gain which secures the slow and sure process of legitimate business is an evil which cannot but result in final demoralization of trade and financial ruin And yet it is an evil which fatters on its own weakness So general has this vicious tendency become that it threatens soon to assume the shape of a national characteristic We are not inclined to admit this perhaps A corner in Wall street is followed by the crash of huge moneta y schemes toppling to their ruin For a moment men pause in their wild and hazardous scheming the tides of commerce and speculation sweep on and not until another mad venture brings its inevitable disaster do we stop to think that after all there may be something rotten in Denmark

Those thoughts have been suggested by reading in a Louisville paper an account of the formation of a company whose purpose it is to develope an El Dorado located in one of the Western Territories While traveling in one of the Territories in 1868 one Mr Robeson, a gentleman of "most excellent fancy" chanced to come upon a region which far outshines the wealth of Ormus or of Ind In the heart of a dense forest thirty veins of gold and silver ore greeted his rapt vision, while all around rich virgin placers "protruded from the soil

Mr R possessed himself of quartz sufficient to authenticate his narrative, hied himself to Washington with patriotic taste and laid before the astonished optics of Mr Seward a proposition for the immediate liquidation of the national debt That wise statesman judiciously remarked that the matter was out of his province but referred the enthusiastic Robeson to the Land Office The Surveyor General has not yet reached the proposition Tired of the delay, Mr R now proposes to form a company of one hundred persons, each of whom is to pay him $50 in cash now, $200 when the mining party is taken to the roofs (!) in the spring, and when his story is proven true, to give a note at twelve months with six per cent interest for $25,000 Other terms equally pleasant and profitable combine to make each credulous Louisvillian a Crœsus When asked "what security can you give for the correctness of these statements?" Mr Robeson courageously remarked, "If my face is not sufficient security, you had better have nothing to do with the enterprise" It is refreshing to know that in several instances Mr R's confidence in the imposing regularity of his features has not been misplaced

Peter Donahue, Esq, of San Francisco, has purchased of the the Central Pacific Company the North Pacific railroad—the Russian river line—for $1,000,000 The contract was completed at Santa Rosa on the 25th of January The Petaluma Argus says in regard to the transaction

Mr Donahue has had a desire to own the property, and on repeated occasions has regretted parting with the same at the time he did He sold the road for $750 000 since which time the Cloverdale extension has been built The change gives good satisfaction everywhere

The Union says it is understood that Stanford & Co had never paid Donahue the original purchase money and that the latter simply took the road back, paying for the work done while the road was in the hands of Stanford

A queer case is on trial in one of the courts of the District of Columbia Clark Mills, the sculptor, is defendant and his children by his first wife the plaintiffs the origin of the case being the making of the equestrian statue of General Jackson, now in Lafayette square, Washington City The law of Congress authorizing the statue contained a clause to the effect that when paid for, he (Mills) should set aside and apply out of the whole fund the sum of $10,000 for the benefit of his wife and children His wife has since died and he has married again Now come the children by his first wife with complaint that they have not received the benefit of the Jackson statue payment as provided for by Congressional enactment

But fifteen per cent of the lands on the island of Cuba, says the Call are under cultivation yet she exports annually to the amount of $90 000 000 There is a yearly revenue of $37,000 000, only $10,000,000 of which goes to the parent Government, the balance being expended on the island Government officials A third of the inland is covered with the rarest timber, which yields woods of many valuable kinds It is also rich in gold, copper lead and iron, In view of these facts, it is no wonder Spain clings to the island with such stubborn tenacity For the same reasons, if it could be obtained by honorable purchase it would be a splendid acquisition to whatever nation might possess it

The recent attempt to assassinate Senor Zorilla President of the Spanish Council was almost a success On the night of December 14th as the Minister's carriage was passing the Puerto del Sol—a public square in Madrid—a crowd of two hundred Spanish Republicans fired killing the footman and mortally wounding the driver At the same time the rebels attacked a theater in which was one of the other Ministers Here the troops fired and killed half a dozen Republicans Disturbances of this character are frequent throughout Spain nowadays

The lucid remarks of the Commissioner of Patents are provoking in their lucidity He decides that a "hat made of a piece of shaped fabric covered with a film of pulp and then pressed so that the materials are intimately united, differs essentially from one in which a piece of woven fabric has been placed as a lining within a pulp hat previously formed "And if so why not?

Recent dispatches from Bombay say that on January 9th a terrible earthquake occurred at Soonghur a town of India, in a detached district of the Baroda Dominions, 114 miles north of Bombay Fifteen hundred persons perished The exact limits of the shock have not been defined but through out the district the greatest consternation prevailed

Until quite recently there have been in Japan two peculiar departments, one of religion and the other of education The former has been abolished and its duties handed over to the other

OUR SALEM LETTER

[FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT]

SALEM, Feb 8 1873

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Pen, ink and paper with a competent hand to manipulate them, would fail in making anything like a faithful record of the weather we have been having recently If such a thing may be imagined we might suppose our sphere in whirling through space had encountered a rough place in its orbit and after the style of juggling vehicles thrown the contents of mercurial ideas into a condition of perpetual up and downishness In addition to a few black disagreeable days we have had some that were bright and beautiful—forerunners of the fair spring and summer before us One day there was a light shimmer of snow in the air It left no trace in the valleys but on each side of us the hills and mountain ranges are white

NEIGHBORHOOD GOSSIP

Strolling carelessly about I notice the planting of arbuscus in many dooryards has already begun The pent up subjects of drawing room culture are wilting from confinement, and though the hyacinth yield during the winter has not been large, we have, in this early transplanting into sunshine, an assurance that the germ is not dead Good soil with anything like a fair cultivation of arbuscus, will brighten up the market and our agricultural implement firm can secure a brisk trade in the manufacture of wagons—small wagons, to be propelled by nurses

A COMPLIMENTARY FOR FUTURES

Lectures are our hobby at present We have had three the past week at Reed's Opera House The course is gotten up on the popular two bit plan, or seven for a dollar The scheme is meritorious and the lectures good But it makes me feel bad whenever I see such entertainments advertised to be given in Salem In connection with the announcement of things of that kind I have a mental photograph of the audience chamber of the Opera House, which comes up without asking, and will not down until I dismiss the thought It is the picture of a deserted stage with a green curtain shutting off the view, in front of which is a small table surmounted by a kerosene lamp, and standing beside it the figure of some poor devil who vainly endeavors to "overreach the grave and from the wreck of names to rescue his" In front of him a cavernous hall, which echoes hurshly to his words giving them a doleful, plaintive effect Amid the array of empty seats near to the stage in the central tier, a small devoted knot of hearers sits, the dim gas gets throwing a ghastlike halo over the scene No noise but the voice of the speaker, and when that dies away the worshippers silently withdraw And as I see them file out to their homes I am prepared for slow music an organ dirge for the dead—dead hopes, dead fancies. Here Miss Mehlig wasted her sweetness on a deserted hall; here the great Vivian witnessed his utter illiteracy in the estimation of our people, and here hosts of lesser lights have been unceremoniously and unmercifully snuffed out I had hoped for better things during this course of lectures, they being kind of home institutions and I attended once during the week, only to have the susceptive tablet of my imagination receive a deeper and more lasting impression of the picture above drawn. It's of no use Our people refuse to be comforted or attracted by any body short of an O Gorman, or some other peripatetic scandal.

CAPITOL COMMISSIONERS, ETC

There is great rejoicing here because of the appointment by the Governor of commissioners for the erection of a State Capitol building The fine addition this structure will make to our already goodly array of imposing edifices and the necessary train of prosperity which must follow its erection, puts our business world in the best of humor Scramblers for the handling of the public money appropriated for this use are not all pleased at the selections made by the Governor This is overlooked from the fact that the project moves

We have had the appointment of a State School Superintendent also, and it is a lamentable fact that the circle of His Excellency's acquaintances and friends is so limited as regards fitness for positions requiring scholastic worth, that the lucky few are hardly able to resign places of honor and trust fast enough to accommodate themselves to the law which governs gubernatorial appointments How embarrassing this must be to the recipients of his favors, and how humiliating to those in expectancy!

THE SCALPERS COME HOME WITH SCALPS

Our small but heroic detachment of avengers has returned from the Modoc war, not like Spartans, maimed or ghastly upon their shields, but in the full and vigorous glow of health They have been and seen and are satisfied As trophies of their daring, they exhibit two scalps—intact Being out of season, no laurel wreaths were woven to deck their brows, and as it is yet too cold to dress maidens in white, and too early for flowers, an ovation was impossible at the hands of our overjoyed populace; but the spot where the wreck of their glory went down shall be marked by the bubbles of story They have only fallen back to protect us from raiding savages and under their sheltering ægis our city is serene free from the marshalling of defenders, tranquil in the knowledge that beneath the garb of two peaceful citizens we have Bellona's chieftains powerful to save

A revival is still in progress at the Methodist Episcopal Church here, and tri weekly meetings were held last week at the Congregational Church.

GOSSIP

Salem is socially quiet, not an on dit among cupid's retainers or even a prospect of a shortlist funeral What the Dames Grundy are doing is impossible to tell It is certain tea parties are much in vogue, but they have a Star Chamber secrecy about them which to those outside the mystic circle is impenetrable Some wanton wretch who has undoubtedly felt the righteous judgment of these inquisitions, has dubbed them the Society of Cannibals The name is suggestive to say the least, and the feast which attracts them here is large if not palatable

Balls and parties are on the decline and the only thing we have before us now in that line is a hop to be given by the Fire Department at the Opera House on the 22d inst

ADIEU

And now let me bid good bye to Salem and your readers I cannot say with our Joaquin,

"I rest content, I kiss your eyes,
I kiss your hair in my delight",

for I don't think he had the fear of belladonna or bear's oil in his mind, but I sincerely hope in all I have said now and heretofore, naught will be considered as set down in malice Having had a favorable response from my oracle I go to prepare hospitable graves for the Modocs, and in the frame of mind which portrayed the value of a friend to the Bard of Ayr Substituting for such friend Salem and its good people, permit me to say that

"I'll remember thee Glencairn
And all that thou hast done for me"

At last the question of Mr Greeley's will has been terminated by the withdrawal of the Misses Greeley from the contest This sets aside the will executed during his last sickness, and substitutes that of January 1872 The Misses Greeley who appear to be endowed with excellent judgment and a delicate sense of propriety have thus it is fair to presume, been forced to give the sum of ten thousand dollars which was understood to be the amount really affected by the controversy, to avoid the scandal of such a contest They have acted handsomely

A Washington dispatch of the 28th, says the House Judiciary Committee decided to day to report a bill placing the salary of the President at $50 000, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court $15 000, Vice President Speaker of the House and Associate Justices, $10 000 and members of Congress, $8 000

It is reported that Hon I W. Palmer, member of Congress from Iowa, has purchased a half interest in the Inter Ocean, paying therefor $100 000, and that after the expiration of his term in Congress on the 4th of March he will assume editorial management of the paper

P T Barnum in a speech in New York the other night, said he was used to being burned out and that he was enabled to invest another half million dollars without disturbing his bank account or injuring the prospects of his children inheriting a fortune they never earned

The San Francisco Call of January 30th says A Washington dispatch says there is a rumor at the Capital that a pool is now being formed in which the Bank of California and the Central Pacific Railway Company are principals, for the purchase of the Union Pacific Railway in case the January interest on bonds of the latter corporation goes to protest, which event is regarded as highly probable in the present embarrassments of the company Simultaneously comes the announcement of the sale of the North Pacific road, and the rumor that they are negotiating with Tom Scott for the sale of the San Jose Branch of the Southern Pacific and their willingness to dispose of the California Pacific from Vallejo to Sacramento. That the Central Pacific, as well as the Union Pacific is hard up has for a long time been common report It is doubtful whether it is able to hold all its California roads, and their sale therefore, becomes a matter of necessity

In Trinity College England, stands a marble statue of Dr Whewell The art critic of the London Standard has seen it With a noticeable freedom from the transcendental cant which characterizes the average art critic, he remarks thusly "The sage man is seated with one leg crossing the other indicative of happy ease, such a only a consummate master can command How refreshing to know that the Doctor's sedentary attitude is calm! And then what a sweet assurance in the sage statement that the Doctor's legs have an expression of happy ease! Verily Americans must be 'consummate masters, and profiting by the serene composure of the sage Doctor's statue, let American artists study our peculiar American attitude

What a goodly thing it is for brethren to dwell in unity! The Brooklyn Eagle thus discourses of the reputed proprietor and editor of the Independent

"It is even said that the slanders on the Rev Henry Ward Beecher, which have been recently circulated through this city were concocted by a woman who has been described as unorganally on principle but we have reason to believe that the foulest and basest of them was originated by a man who is unmanly on principle, and the man is Henry C Bowen We will not believe that Mr Beecher is a libertine, we prefer to believe that Henry C Bowen is a scoundrel."

Hence originated the suit against the Eagle for libel.

The expenditures of the Government for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1873, it is estimated, will be about $250,000,000 This amount includes the payment of the interest on the public debt

AN HISTORIC SKULL.—At the law office of Messrs Bollinger Lurmaster we were shown yesterday a human skull brought from the Klamath Lake country a few days since by C L Bellinger who left recently, returned from the Lava beds. The skull is probably that historic one the Lieut Colonel Gorrish door which the melancholy murder subsequent but still it has a history of such importance and interest to warrant a brief recital. The skull was that of a young girl aged probably sixteen, who was murdered many years ago by the hostile Modocs near Lost River. The particulars concerning the tragic end of the unfortunate girl we are indebted to Col Bollinger. In the year 1852 while an emigrant train was on the way to the southern portion of Oregon it was attacked by a band of the hostile Modocs upon or contiguous to Willow Creek, in California not within a few miles of Tule Lake, and but a short distance from where the present Fort Klamath or Generals Wheaton and Ross are encamped. The train numbered nearly one hundred souls all of whom were massacred but two. Out of the train two young girls, sisters, aged about sixteen and fourteen years, were taken prisoners. Their name is unknown. The relatives and comrades and all that remained of that company perished in relentless and bloody massacre. Their bodies were thrown into the stream, and a pile of the bones, half buried in the soft mud and half protruding above it, have been pointed out by the Indians as the site of the massacre and the remains of its victims. They and portions of the half burned emigrant wagons may be seen to this day. The younger of the captive sisters died first, but under what circumstances is not known. To right of the road leading from Small's and Van Bromer's ranches and within a short distance of Dorris' house, there is a high ledge of rock that overlooks to the north a narrow valley that stretches away to Little Klamath lake. Here, when savage jealousy had made her an object of contention, or when her ruined body could no longer administer to savage lust, the older sister was murdered. Less than two years ago Scar faced Charley, who was a boy when these occurrences took place, showed this spot to Ball and related the facts here given. A crumbling skeleton was pointed out as the remains of the last victim of the Willow Creek tragedy.

In company with another gentleman and led by a guide, Col Bellinger visited the spot indicated. All that were discovered was a human skull, one rib, and one of the bones of the arm. Wild beasts and birds had demolished all the remnants of the human skeleton, and no other traces but those named, marked the sad spot which had witnessed the tragical scene. Col. Bellinger gathered up the remaining relics and brought them away with him. On reaching Jacksonville these bones were packed in a box and forwarded by express to this city. These bones have been donated to Mr Dav. Rafferty of East Portland, and will be placed in his cabinet of natural and mineral curiosities. In collecting and forwarding these mournful relics for exhibition, Col. Bellinger was impelled by no desire to desecrate them. For many years these bones have lain in the wilds bleached by the sun and storm. It seems nothing more than humane to remove what remains to the habitation of civilization. They can thus be preserved, and if the few clues which remain can lead in time to the discovery as to who the girl was, or her name to surviving relatives or friends, these bones can be given a christian burial. From the appearance of the skull and other bones, the murder was committed many years ago, but just how long will never be known. The hapless captive girls may have been retained in the tribe for years, or they not have survived the general massacre but a few months. For its historic associations this skull is worthy of inspection.

GERMAN BENEVOLENT ASSOCIATION.—The first step in the inauguration of this institution was taken at a meeting held by twelve or fifteen of our most prominent German citizens on the 3d of January, 1871. At a general meeting held on the 7th of February, the same year, the Society was organized and a Constitution with by-laws adopted and signed by seventeen members. The Society and its benevolent purpose soon found favor among the Germans, not only of this city, but of the whole State, and at the close of the year, the President said in his first annual report that he was happy to state the number of members being then nearly one hundred. The Society had given during that period pecuniary aid to sixteen persons, had helped numerous lately arrived Germans to find employment, and aided others in different ways. The Secretary's annual report for 1871 showed a prosperous financial condition of the Society, and reported $477 52 cash on hand. The last annual report shows the affairs of the Society as even more prosperous than the preceding year, the funds on hand having accumulated to something over $800. Fifteen Germans, of whom three were married and had families, received assistance. The Society owes a great deal of her present flourishing condition to the able and efficient manner with which the affairs of the same have been managed by its officers. How highly this was appreciated by the members was shown at the last annual election, where the President, Vice President, Treasurer and the Board of Directors were re elected the third time. The present officers are Henry Saxer, President; Frank Dekum, Vice President; Charles Burchardt, Treasurer, Peter Wagner, Secretary. Trustees—F Ewald, John Donner, Loeberg and C H Mensendorfer. In case of sickness, a member of the Association is admitted to the hospital free. German emigrants who are in need of assistance, have the privilege of remaining the first three months in the institution at no expense to themselves. Persons who are willing to pay for attentions will find the hospital a comfortable home during sickness. With these objects in view, the institution must certainly meet with the favor among our citizens the enterprise deserves. The committee from the Association hope to realize over $2 000 from the fair and festival, and we trust their wishes may be fulfilled.

UNEXPECTEDLY DISCHARGED.—An event occurred a few days since while the steamer Rescue was lying at Monticello, which, while it resulted harmlessly to the party most nearly concerned, might have been attended with serious consequences. On last Sunday, the Captain of the steamer went out hunting. He returned late in the evening, and thoughtlessly set his fowling piece, a heavily charged shotgun, behind the cabin door. Early the next morning, while the cabin boy was engaged in sweeping out, it is supposed that he struck the hammer of the piece and the load was discharged. The charge tore a large ragged hole through the hurricane deck and the powder burned the sides of the wall. The loud detonation fairly shook the boat, suddenly roused the Captain and Purser from their morning nap, and nearly frightened the boy and cook to death. It was some time before the boy could be convinced that he had not received the whole charge. Quiet was at length restored, the cook soon recovered from the fright, and was able to resume the preparation of the matutinal meal, and the boy at last became convinced on the repeated assurance of the Captain and Purser, that he was only frightened and not killed.

SAILED HOME.—The steamer Oregonian sailed last evening for San Francisco having on board the following passengers: Gen Adair and wife, Wm H Daubel, J P Langford, Daniel Pratt, Geo Ramsey, T Harper, W F Hansen, Louis Johns, W P Rogers, Geo Lan, F Mirks, R W Rising, Miss Mamie Risley, G W Rhodes, Miss Lizzie Chamberlain, J Homer, Elias Lipels and wife, Miss Alice Belmont, G W Kerr, R A Harper, W D Walbridge, P H White, L P Beach, Elias Wolf, Chas Brown, E Minor, wife and 2 children, C L Dunan, Mrs Garfield and 2 infants, Miss Mary Coakley, J O Baldwin, Miss Sinclair, W L Leveridge, Mrs S B Harrington, J Simon, wife and infant, A S Knox and wife, S Cohain, Paul Corno, Henry J Gates, L Beltman, Jerome Keys, D Gavin, Richard Gray, Wm Crawford, Miss A Ramas, Miss Rosa Worth, Miss Nellie Dodge, W Adams, (Wells, Fargo & Co's messenger,) and 20 in steerage.

IN PORT.—A number of men commenced to discharge ballast from the hold of the ship Sarah Scott. The rock is hoisted from the hold by means of a donkey engine attached to a pile driver, which was brought alongside. The rock as rapidly as raised is deposited on the wharf. Nearly all the crew are engaged in scraping the masts of the vessel and otherwise repairing the rigging after the long voyage.

The ship Prescott Sprague is at present hoisting out the ballast from the hold and depositing it on the wharf, from whence it will be carted away.

The vessel Ocana is lying at McCraken's wharf discharging ballast, which consists of sand and some stone. All these vessels will be ready to receive grain simultaneously.

GONE TO THE SOUND.—Major Robert will pay an official visit to the Sound the coming week to inspect and superintend government work now in operation at several points.

A STRIKE FOR LIBERTY.—Last Friday U S Deputy Marshal Williams left this city having in custody two deserting sailors from the ship Whittington. Arriving at Astoria, he placed the sailors on board the vessel under charge of Capt Purdy. On Sunday night about ten o'clock, the Captain of the ship heard two persons cut some distance from the vessel in the darkness vociferating for help. Instantly he ordered the boat lowered. Headed by Captain Purdy, several sailors leaped into the boat and put out to succor the drowning persons. The two struggling persons were reached and rescued from watery graves. Judge of the complete surprise of the Captain when he discovered on reaching his vessel that he had innocently re captured and saved from drowning the identical fellows who had deserted before from the ship. The two sailors had under cover of darkness provided themselves with two empty oil cans and a barrel, and cautiously descended to the river from the forward part of the vessel. The vessel was anchored about a hundred yards from shore and the would be deserters hoped to be able to reach the land by swimming. After leaving the ship the cans began to leak and lose their buoyancy. The sailors finding they were about to sink began to shout for help, which resulted in their getting caught in their own trap. They will probably not make another attempt to escape unless better favored by circumstances.

OPEN WINTER.—Mr A J Dafur, who returned from one of the mountains last week, informs us that the winter thus far in the vicinity of the Dalles, has proved very open. On Fifteen Mile Creek, snow had fallen to the depth of a few inches only. Sheep and cattle were reported to be fed but three days, and could have managed to get along without any provender at all. Large bands of sheep have ranged at large over the hills during the winter months and are in excellent condition. The farmers are busily engaged in plowing and putting in their crops. There is as much activity among the farmers in that section of the country now as is witnessed in this valley in the early spring months. A large amount of grain is being sowed. With a propitious season the yield of grain for 1873 in Wasco county will be far in excess of that of any former year.

STRANGE AFFILIATION.—One of the most peculiar cases of affection which has come under our notice was that of a large and well developed animal of the rodent species, commonly known as a rat, taking up its abiding place with a cat and litter of kittens. This rat had intruded himself into a box, in which the feline family had comfortable quarters, on Monday night and remained with them as though one of the tribe until yesterday afternoon, when he was scared away by a Chinaman who sought to poke fun at his ratship's expense. The scene of this singular alliance was the Franco American Restaurant. There seemed to be a feeling of harmony existing between the mother and the stranger which is strangely at variance with the instinctive hostility common between those animals.

MAKING SURVEYS.—The City Surveyor and his assistants were engaged yesterday in running lines at the intersection of Vine, A and First streets, just north of the Central Market. The object was to locate the streets definitely and fix the exact limits of the fractional block at the intersections. When the precise boundaries of the block are established, work will be commenced at once for the new brick building which Capt Ankeny proposes to erect at that point for the joint use of the Express and Telegraph offices. The plans for the building were drawn up some time ago, and have met the approval of both offices. The building will be fractional in shape, two stories high, 75 feet long, 38 feet wide at the east end and 25 feet at the western end.

AN IMPROVED WAY.—It is seldom that any thing new is noted at Salem during the two years' recess of the Legislature, but we have just heard of an exception in the shape of an improvement in buzzing devices. The old way of holding a man while buzzing him was to insert a finger in his button hole or firmly grasp the lapel of his coat. It was found that there was an escape from this, so Salem, the seat of Governors and site of Legislatures, has invented an improvement, which consists in finding a man in a chair and then sitting on his knees. This method gives the bores absolute control of their victims. It is called the "Anti Locomotion Dodge," and a Vigilance Committee is looking for its author.

COLD ABOVE.—We are informed by a party who came down on the steamer last evening from the Dalles that the cold which they are now experiencing will be very apt to close navigation. This is nothing improbable, as we are informed by a party who lived in Eastern Oregon several years, that the river at the Dalles has been known to be closed two or three times during the same winter, and as late as the latter part of this month. It is about a year now since the river opened last spring, and if it closes now, it will surprise the stock raisers in that region, as they have been apprehending an early and propitious season.

BROUGHT DOWN.—The hull of the new steamer Governor Grover was towed down to the Gas Company's wharf yesterday morning by the Marie Wilkins. The hull will soon be placed in a proper condition to receive the boiler, which is being manufactured. The engine and machinery will also be added as rapidly as they may be completed as detailed. The wood work on the cabin is being prosecuted with all possible vigor by a large force of men. The Governor Grover will probably be ready to make the trial trip by the first of next month.

NO SPECIAL TERM.—Judge Upton being absent at Salem there was no meeting of the Circuit Court on Monday, which was the day on which the special term was to begin. Court was called and adjourned by the Sheriff. The Judge returned on Monday evening, but being unable to attend in consequence of illness in his family, the special term was adjourned sine die yesterday evening at 4 o'clock by the Sheriff, in accordance with law. There will be no court until next Monday, when the regular February term will begin.

POSTAL DECISION.—The Acting Postmaster General has decided, in response to a letter from Postmaster Eastman of Chicago, that several printed circulars, although they refer to the same thing, and are, as it were, a part, cannot be sent through the mails prepaid by a one cent stamp only, but must bear a one cent stamp each. This is important to merchants and others who are now preparing circulars to distribute to atleast the spring trade.

CRIMINAL CASES.—Thus far there are 18 criminal cases on the docket for trial at the next term of the Circuit Court, classified as follows: Receiving stolen goods, 1, keeping a house of ill fame, 1, maintaining a nuisance, 3, forgery, 3, keeping a saloon open on Sunday, 1, larceny 1, threatening to kill, 3, threatening to commit bodily harm, 1, assault, 1, aiding a prisoner to escape, 1, uttering a forged order, 1.

PUGET SOUND HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION.—At the regular meeting of the Puget Sound Home stead Association, held at the office of Ferry Woodward & Co, February 3d, the following persons were elected to serve for the ensuing year: P W Gilfotte, President, C H Woodward Vice President, C P Ferry, Secretary, J H Hatch, Treasurer. Directors—J S Walker, H Mekin nell, J H Read.

NEW BOOKS RECEIVED.—The new books mentioned some days ago, which will be used in connection with the records of the Circuit Court for this county have been completed and were received at the County Clerk's office yesterday. These books are three in number, and are titled "Calendar of Criminal Cases," "Calendar of Civil Suits" and "Motion Book."

TO RAISE FREIGHT.—A donkey engine is being put in operation at the upper end of Flanders' wharf, which will be used in raising freight from the steamers which may land at that place. The steamer Calliope already lands there, and the steamers of the Willamette Transportation Company will probably touch at the same place when ready to run.

CONVALESCING.—We are pleased to announce that Mr Orrin Kellogg, Sr, father of Capt Joe Kellogg, of this city, who has been afflicted for some time past with the dropsy, is convalescing and will soon be able to appear again on the streets. Mr Kellogg is one of the old pioneers of this State and is now in his 83d year.

OFFICERS' BALL.—The officers of the Lummi Guard held a meeting last week and concluded to hold their annual ball on the evening of the 11th at Armory Hall. No admission will be charged or tickets issued. Invitation will be extended to those whose company is desired on that evening.

NEW FERRY SLIP.—A plank roadway has been laid from the railroad track down to the water's edge at a point just above the old distillery building. The old pontoon at the Gas Works will soon be moved down to the foot of the new road way and the ferry will land at that point.

CHARGED WITH LARCENY.—A man named L Loudenback was arrested and lodged in jail last evening on a charge of larceny. The defendant is accused of the larceny of $10 by H Jones. The case will be examined into this morning in the Police Court.

SAILING DOWN.—The bark Free Trade was met yesterday afternoon by the Astoria steamer some distance below Kalama. The vessel was sailing down the river at a good rate. She was loaded with slave bolts and bound for San Francisco.

FOR KALAMA.—Thirty three head of cattle were taken to Kalama yesterday on the steamer Lurline. These animals will be conveyed to Olympia via the railroad, and are intended to supply the meat markets of that place.

OIL HOUSE FINISHED.—The oil house which has been in process of construction for several months past for the light house at Cape Disappointment, is completed, and is ready for the use intended.

BARK MILANCTHON.—This bark which sailed from San Francisco on the 29th ult, will be due here by Sunday next. She has on board a large quantity of iron, fixtures, etc, for the gas company.

SOCIAL PARTY.—A social dancing party came off at Vancouver last evening. The party was given principally under the auspices of the Good Templars of that place.

KATIE HYDON.—The little schooner Katie Hyson is now in the river bound for this port. This little schooner comes from Tillamook with a cargo of produce.

EXEMPT CERTIFICATES.

At an adjourned meeting held on Monday evening by the Board of Delegates of the Fire Department, the following resolutions were adopted by that body, and duly attested by the Secretary, Chauncey Ball:

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Portland Fire Department is hereby directed to advertise for 60 days in the several daily papers of this city, giving notice to exempt members of the Department that applications for the new exempt certificates and exempt badges will be received by him on or before the expiration of that time when he will justify the exempt roll and distribute the badges to the applicants according to the seniority of the members on the register.

Resolved, That each exempt member of the Department who has obtained an exempt certificate and paid the sum of $1 therefor, and making application to the Secretary, shall deposit with him the sum of $3, which shall entitle him to receive the new exempt certificate and badge. All the members of the Department who shall apply for certificates of exception shall with the application deposit the sum of $1 and $2 for the exempt certificate, and $2 for the exempt badge.

Resolved, That the Secretary shall register the name of each exempt member opposite the respective number of the badge delivered to them, and that that record shall be final, and no member shall hereafter be permitted to wear a like numbered exempt badge. Provided, however, that any two exempts petitioning the Board of Delegates for permission to exchange their respective numbered badges, and filing therewith their written consent, duly signed and witnessed, to make such exchange, the Board of Delegates may, by a two thirds vote of the members present, permit the exchange to be made and order the register to be amended to conform thereto. But in no case shall this apply to deceased exempt members' badges.

THE GERMAN FAIR.

The second night of the German Fair and Festival passed off gaily. A large crowd was in attendance, the large hall was completely thronged with the beauty and fashion of the city. Throughout the evening the excitement over the contest between the local reporters of the various journals of the city was intense. The adherents and partisans of the various factions vied with each other in zeal for the election of their several candidates and money was spent freely. The usual contest closed at 10 o'clock. The money bags of the Herald won the day, and I M King was proclaimed victor. A triumphant strain of sweet content wreathed the classic features of this well known Bohemian. It may be proper to state that the friends of the defeated candidates were led to believe from an item in the Herald of yesterday, that the polls would close at 11 o'clock P M. Had the announcement proved correct, the result might have been far different. The prize—a fine pistol—is awarded to I M King as the reporter receiving the highest number of votes.

We were unable to obtain anything like an exact statement of the gross receipts of the Fair, but there is little doubt that they amount already to a large sum, perhaps $1,000. From half past seven last evening until nearly midnight, the large crowds was coming and going so that during the evening there must have been many more present than could possibly have been packed into the hall at one time.

This evening the

of the occasion will take place, at which time the prizes will be drawn and distributed. A large number of chances have been disposed of and some lucky individuals are destined to carry off very valuable prizes. It is expected that the attendance this evening will exceed that of any time previous. To morrow the Fair will close with a which is expected to surpass anything of the kind Portland has witnessed for many days. So far everyone pronounces the institution an unqualified success.

TABLE TURN.—Captain Judkins, for many years commodore of the Cunard line of steamers, had a certain way occasionally of expressing himself in answer to what he deemed pointless questions from passengers. In fact, a dove-like sweetness of manner was not the commodore's best point. On one of his latest voyages he had among the passengers Bishop Littlejohn and wife, of Long Island. Mrs Littlejohn one day, being near the commodore, asked him if it was going to rain.

"Ask the cook," was the bluff reply.

"I beg pardon," said Mrs. Littlejohn, "am I not speaking to the cook?"

History has not informed us as to the precise phraseology of his response.

Can any Medicine do More?

The out of changing the base metals into gold has not been discovered, but the happy results of a discovery infinitely more important are familiar to the community, and have been so for the past twenty years. To exchange debility for vigor sickness for health, apathy for energy, gloom for cheerfulness, is a much more desirable operation than to transmute lead into the root of all evil. And this is what Hostetter's Stomach Bitters accomplish, and have been accomplishing daily, ever since their introduction. Dyspepsia, biliousness, nervous affections, constipation, intermittent fevers, rheumatism, sick headache and general debility are no longer the bug bears that they were in the fifth of a century ago. The Bitters, taken as a protective medicine, prevent them, and taken as a remedy cures them, and the people know it. Hence their extraordinary reputation and enormous sale. The fame of the great vegetable specific is ever on the march, and at a pace that no competitor can live. It is to day the foremost medicine of its class in the civilized world. Every now and then attempts are made to rival it, and sometimes a nostrum concocted in the idle hope of sharing its popularity, has a brief spurt of apparent success. But it is all illusion. One by one they sink like stones in the sea, while the great tonic, whose celebrity has been the cause of these blind ventures, continues to ride on the topmost wave of public favor, unapproached and unapproachable.

PLANTATION BITTERS!

S. T.—1860—X.

This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid it has no equal among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weaknesses to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates, tropical, temperate or frigid, it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits.

The Election of Prince Lunalilo, King of the Hawaiian Islands.

[From the San Francisco Bulletin.]

By the last arrival from Honolulu we have Hawaiian dates of January 4th. The news is highly important. Prince Lunalilo has been designated as the future King by overwhelming and almost spontaneous expression of the popular will. A meeting of citizens was held in Honolulu, December 26th, at which delegates were chosen to vote for the Prince. S. G. Wilder was chosen President, and the following preamble and resolutions, offered by Hon. A. F. Judd, were adopted

WHEREAS, By the death of King Kamehameha V., without appointing and proclaiming a successor, the throne has become vacant, and the duty of electing a successor devolves by law on the Legislative Assembly, and

WHEREAS, The representatives now in office were elected without special reference to the important work to which, by the providence of God, they are called, and it becomes important that they assemble as delegates of the people to express the popular choice for sovereign, and

WHEREAS, His Royal Highness Prince William C. Lunalilo, has, in a public address, requested that all male subjects of the Kingdom express their free choice for a King as successor of Kamehameha V., by vote on the first of January, 1873, therefore

Resolved, That we, the people of Honolulu and the District of Kona, Oahu, in mass meeting assembled, approve of the recommendation above referred to, and request all male subjects residing in Honolulu and the District of Kona, Oahu, to express by vote on the first day of January, 1873, their choice of a King as successor to Kamehameha V.

Resolved, That a committee of thirteen, to include foreigners and Hawaiians, be chosen by this meeting as a Committee of the people; and that the first four members of it, including two foreigners and two natives, shall act as inspectors of election, with full power to select a place for holding the election, and to make all such arrangements as may be deemed necessary to see a full and free expression of the choice of the people of this district.

THE COMMITTEE OF THIRTEEN.

The resolutions were adopted without amendment, and the following gentlemen were then elected as a Committee of Thirteen: J. Mounault, G. W. Pilipo, S. G. Wilder, H. M. Whitney, J. Kahai, W. P. Wood, J. U. Kawainui, A. Kalauli, J. M. Kapena, E. P. Adams, P. C. Jones, Jr., W. W. Hall, J. O. Carter.

Hon. Mr. Carter (who came in later in the evening) asked to be allowed to resign his position on the committee, as he was a member of the Legislature that had been convened to elect a King, and as such he wished to stand aloof and hear what was said and done. Mr. Carter's resignation was accepted, for the reasons given, and J. I. Dowsett was elected to fill the vacancy.

S. B. Dole then offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That this meeting, acknowledging the claims of His Highness, Prince W. C. Lunalilo to the throne of the Hawaiian Islands, as the successor of his late Majesty, Kamehameha V., and approving of his guarantee to restore the Constitution of the Hawaiian Islands, and to fully maintain the rights and liberties of the people," as stated in his manifesto of the 16th December, 1872, express their hearty support of his said Highness, Prince W. C. Lunalilo, as a candidate to the throne of the Hawaiian Islands.

INDORSEMENT OF LUNALILO.

Mr. Dole said that Prince Lunalilo had come before the people and submitted his claims to them. He had not seized the power, as he might have done without any serious opposition, but he had left it to the people to say who should be the next King. This act had not its parallel in the history of monarchies, and by this act alone the Prince had recognized the great fact that the origin of all governments lay with the people. By adopting this resolution the people would show that they were alive to the responsibility resting upon them.

A motion was made and seconded to strike out the words "successor to his late Majesty," because if the people elect a king, he will not be a "successor" to the late king; he will be the people's king.

J. P. Green opposed the amendment, because he thought it was a mere quibble as to whether the next King would be Kamehameha VI. or Lunalilo I.

The amendment was then put to a vote and lost.

After the discussion of some minor points the resolution was unanimously adopted.

A BAPTISMAL OMEN.

H. M. Whitney, in concluding a few remarks which were received with applause, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That we, the people, do hereby instruct our four Representatives in the Legislative Assembly to vote for Prince W. C. Lunalilo for King, and for no one else

The resolution was seconded from all parts of the House and adopted unanimously amid the wildest enthusiasm.

Mr. Whitney then said: "It is related that when Prince Lunalilo was an infant and was about to be baptised, the Rev. Mr. Bingham, the well-known pioneer missionary, who was to perform the ceremony, asked, 'What shall we call the child?' The father replied, 'William Charles Kanaiana.' 'No,' responded his mother, the Chieftess Kekaulnohi, 'he is the highest chief in all the islands, therefore his name shall be LUNALILO!' (above all.)" Tremendous cheers followed this narration, the audience rising and waving hats and handkerchiefs.

The meeting then adjourned and the vast audience quietly dispersed after giving three ringing cheers for the future King, Prince William C. Lunalilo.

THE SENTIMENT IN THE OTHER ISLANDS.

The Honolulu Commercial Advertiser of December 28th, alluding to the feeling at other places, says:

The evidence accumulates from day to day, from all sections of the country from which reports have been received, that the address of Prince Lunalilo has struck the key note of response in the national heart. We hear of impromptu meetings of the people in various directions, at which the most perfect unanimity has prevailed, in deciding to instruct the Representatives to cast the vote of the district for the Prince. At Waimea, Kauai, in one of the meetings an informal vote was taken, and out of two hundred and four persons voting, two hundred were for Lunalilo, and about the same ratio was observed in other places. From Maui also the report comes that the Prince's name is on all tongues as the rightful successor to the throne. The same sentiment is overwhelmingly manifest from one end to the other of this island, while in this city the foreign population is almost as united and enthusiastic in support of the Prince as are his own native people. Hawaii remains to be heard from and there is no doubt but that the population of that island will almost instantaneously respond as has Maui and Kauai.

A vote on the succession was taken at Waialua on this island one day last week, when every vote except one was for Prince William C. Lunalilo. The solitary negative was ridiculed so badly that he begged to be allowed to retract and vote with everybody else.

AMERICAN SHIPMASTERS' ACTION.

On Monday, December 31st, the Captains of the various American vessels lying in the harbor of Honolulu assembled at the Hawaiian Hotel and then proceeded in a body to the city residence of Prince Lunalilo. The deputation was received with marked cordiality by the Prince who impressed every one present by his dignified, courteous demeanor. An address from the shipmasters was thereupon read by W. M. Gibson. The address expressed satisfaction at the Prince's well-founded prospect of ascending the throne, and referred to the importance of strictly guarding the port and protecting its interests by a wise legislation. The following is

THE PRINCE'S REPLY.

"GENTLEMEN: I am truly pleased to meet you, and happy to receive a kindly congratulation from the representatives of an interest so important to the welfare of this country. I hope to see our commercial relations extended to all nations.

In the event of my occupying the grave and responsible position to which you kindly allude, and to which the favorable wishes of all the people of these islands would seem likely to call me, I shall make it my duty to discriminate fairly in respect to the interests of native and foreigner, and respect the rights and interests of all.

I thank you cordially, gentlemen, not only for the interest expressed in regard to my person, but in behalf of my weak little country. I hope in carrying out such views as you express to advance all its interests and its position before the world."

THE ELECTION.

The following is the announcement issued by the Judges of Election in relation to the election on the 1st of January

[Picture of the Hawaiian Flag.]

TO EXPRESS THE POPULAR CHOICE FOR

KING

THESE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS

will take place

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 1, 1873

From 8 A. M. till 4 P. M. at the AUCTION ROOM OF E. O. HALL & SON.

☞All Male Subjects of Twenty Years of Age are invited to vote for any Native. And they may prefer

J. MOANAULI,
G. W. PILIPO,
S. G. WILDER,
H. M. WHITNEY
Judges of the Election.

The election took place January 1st, and was conducted in an orderly manner. Speeches were made by several Hawaiians, all of whom possessed a flow of language that was astounding. The Household troops marched in a body to the polls and quietly deposited their ballots. Following them was a long procession of Mormons from the other side of the island, and crowds of people from the most distant parts of the district were on hand to have a voice in making a King for themselves. A woman came with the ballot of her sick husband, who did not wish to lose his privilege, but of course his representative could not act for him in this case. Every precaution was taken that none but "citizens" should vote, and we know of but two cases where illegal votes were offered. At 5 o'clock the polls closed, and the Committee proceeded to count the ballots, a task which they completed in an hour. A dense crowd awaited the announcement of the result, which was then made known to them "There have been 3,049 votes cast—all for William C Lunalilo!"

Of the voters, 2,768 were Hawaiians and 281 naturalized foreigners. At the prison a vote was taken which was unanimous for the Prince. At Ewa and Waianae there were 321 votes cast, at Koolaulon, 293, at Koolaupoko, 472 and at Waialua. The total for Oahu is 1,309 votes cast for Lunalilo and one for D. Kaakaua.

In Hilo, 971 votes were cast, all for Prince Lunalilo. The two districts of Lahaina and Kaanapali went solid for the Prince, one giving him 584 votes, and the latter 387, none scattering. At Makao, Koolaulon, it was a unanimous vote for the Prince. At Waialua, Lunalilo received 172 votes and D. Kalakaua one. Other districts have to be heard from.

The legitimacy of Prince Lunalilo's election by a popular vote to the throne now rests on his election by the Legislature, which was to meet in Honolulu on Wednesday, the 8th of January, and on his taking the prescribed oath of office.

BURIAL OF THE LATE KING.

Extensive preparations were being made for the burial of the late King, which was to occur on the night of January 6th

The bank statements at New York for the week ending January 18, although not showing so strong as they did for a corresponding period of last year, nevertheless exhibit a better condition than on previous weeks the past month. There was the large increase of $1,902,000 in the excess over the legal reserve. This fact is noted by our exchanges as evidence of the general tendency to amelioration in the monetary pressure.

A copy of the New York World of the 22nd of January, has reached us, from which we learn that the money markets of Europe are working toward greater ease. In London the rates for loans, at the date named in the open market, were ½ to ⅝ per cent below the Bank of England's minimum rate of 4½ per cent. The Bank of England had gained during the week £214,000 in bullion, and the Bank of France 600,000 francs. There was an improved demand for American securities in Europe.

Exports.

Per Ortiammo, for San Francisco—10,629 sks flour; 3,676 sks oats; 11,602 hides; 981 boxes apples 143 boxes eggs; 645 sks potatoes; 10 cases butter; 5 barrels whisky; 4 bbls cider, 27 empty barrels; 20 packages miscellaneous merchandise, 3,114 bundles hoop poles.

State of Trade in Great Britain.

Ex facts from the yearly circulars of prominent English brokers say the cotton trade was not as good in 1872 as in the previous year, and the rates obtained were not even remunerative. Spinners and manufacturers commence the new year well under contract. Business for the present will be mainly influenced by the quantity of imports, and the present scarcity is likely to be filled over without any enlargement of prices.

As to the sugar trade, it is stated that the consumption of 1871 by Europe and the United States was increased in 1872 by about 2½ per cent. It is expected that the new crop will be at least 1½ per cent better than the last, while stocks are accumulating and depreciation in prices is certain.

In regard to the timber trade, it is said that the forests which are being cleared for supplies grow continually further from the seaport, and an enhancement of prices is probable.

The petroleum trade is in a satisfactory condition, and business is certain to increase. Legislation, however, is required, as English merchants are only allowed to import oil inflammable at 120 degrees, while those of the continent can import it only 110 degrees.

The wool trade is in an unsatisfactory state. The imports, for the first time in its history, have fallen off. The deficit has evidently gone to the United States.

Miscellaneous.

During 1872 twenty six American and fourteen foreign vessels from foreign ports arrived at this port. These all together had a tonnage capacity of 21 080 tons. In the same length of time the departures hence for foreign ports were thirty eight American and fifteen foreign vessels, aggregating 29,412 tons capacity.

According to the latest data furnished by the Bureau of Statistics, the foreign trade of the Chinese treaty ports continues steadily to increase, the United States still being second in the list of countries, with commerce in value, be to exports, of one fifth of Great Britain. The total imports in 1871 was $98,000, while the exports were about $92,500,000.

It is estimated that the production of gold in the State of Oregon for the year 1872 amounted to the sum of $1,900,000.

Thirty seven vessels were dispatched from San Francisco from January 1st to the 23d, loaded with wheat, and carrying in the aggregate 1,061,054 centals, valued at $2,108,274. This makes the total since July 1, 1872, of 222 vessels carrying 6,826,808 centals, valued at $11,-130,137.

According to mail advices from New York, the petroleum combination has practically come to an end. There is still a show of keeping up prices of crude at $4 at Oil City by the ring, though it is known that large sales have been made by sub agents at $2 15 to $2 30. Then there is a general desertion of the Petroleum Exchange. Two thirds of that body had already applied to be admitted as members to the Produce Exchange, and it was thought the remaining third would soon follow.

A second shipment of Santa Cruz sole leather like just been sold in London at 14½ pence, equal to 26c coin per pound.

Home Produce Market

WHEAT—From the quiet which has reigned in the market for the last few days, there seems to be a little deep action to mark a change in quantity. Buyers here generally insist that they will not go beyond the call of $1 85 per cental, which is the quotation given us by them all to day. A gentleman in this city is offering a consignee here, which he controls, but finds exporters averse to bidding beyond the rate specified. We have it, though, upon reliable authority, that a milling firm has offered him $1 70 per cental, which offer is yet in abeyance, having been neither positively declined or accepted.

FLOUR—Notwithstanding the weakening tendency developed in San Francisco by our dispatches, the shipments hence by steamer to-day are quite large, being over 10,000 sacks. Prices in our local mart are unchanged, and it is thought that rates will become settled in a few days.

OATS—Our home market continues dull, though figures remain at 90@95 cents per hundred. The San Francisco steamer carries 45 tons at 1 00 cental.

HAY—We quote good timothy at $18@20 per ton, with no unusual demand.

FEED—Prices are quoted firm at our last quotations. The supply is a little short.

BACON—The market is very fully supplied with Oregon cured, which is not in active demand at 11@12½c per ℔ for side, bulk. Or should rule, and 13½c for hams. There are at last advices 126,000 pounds in store here.

LARD—The market is full at 10@11 cents per pound in kegs, and 12@13 in tins. Demand dull, shippers finding very slow sales in San Francisco.

EGGS—The supply during the past few days has been largely increased, and prices are accordingly low. Jobbers sell at 25 cents per dozen, and shippers refuse to pay over 20 cents.

BUTTER—But little change is noted. A large supply of common is on hand and held at a low figure. Best is firm at 40 cents per pound.

POTATOES—The tone of the market is rather lower, former prices owing to decrease in receipts. We quote at 50@55 cents per bushel.

APPLES—Prices are well maintained at 50@65 cents per box without boxes, with boxes at 75@90 cents.

CITY ADVERTISEMENTS.

Ordinance No. 1274.

AN ORDINANCE TO PROVIDE FOR THE TIME and manner of improving that part of G street lying between the west line of North Thirteenth street and the east line of North Fifth street, and the west line of North Thirteenth street.

The City of Portland does Ordain as follows:

Section 1. The proposed improvement of that part of G street lying between the west line of North Thirteenth street shall be completed as hereinafter provided on or before the first day of June, 1873.

Section 2. The surface of the street shall be cleared of all plank, timber or other obstacles or perishable material (sidewalks crosswalks and plank roadways of the proper width and grade excepted). If the obstructions are not removed by the owners of the adjacent lots, within three days from the service of notice by the Street Commissioner, they shall be removed by, and become the property of the contractor.

Section 3. The improvement shall consist of grading the roadway the full width between the lines of the sidewalks' cubs and lying a plank roadway sixteen feet in width with box gutters across the street where necessary, and a suitable bridge across Tanner's creek, according to plans to be furnished by the Committee on Streets and Public Property.

Section 4. The work to be done and material furnished shall correspond with the provisions of, and under the restrictions contained in Sections 6, 10, 11 and 12 of Ordinance 765, entitled "An Ordinance in relation to the improvement of streets," except that the piedpors shall be 4x8 instead of 4x6 inches. The gutters shall be of four inch plank, with an inside measurement of 144 inches.

Section 5. The contractor shall take entire charge of the work during its progress, and shall be responsible for any loss or accident resulting from carelessness or neglect.

Section 6. The committee on Streets and Public Property are hereby authorized to advertise for proposals, receive bids and enter into contract with the lowest responsible bidder, or bidders, for the improvement specified in this Ordinance.

Section 7. The improvement shall be completed to the satisfaction of the Committee on Streets and Public Property, and the Street Commissioner.

Passed the Common Council January 23, 1873.
